

ELECTION STATEWIDE LOOMING FOR DE VALELA

FATE OF DAIL MAY BE WITH LABOR PARTY

Observers Believe Irish Leader Will Soon Call New Election

DUBLIN, July 5.—With 23 seats still to report, the possibility developed today of a stalemate in the Irish Free State election of July 1.

Last night the standing was:

Fianna Fail (Government) . . . 59
Pro Gael (Opposition) . . . 37
Labour . . . 11
Independent-Labour . . . 1
To come . . . 23
Total . . . 138

Forecasters were that the missing seats, President De Valera's Fianna Fail would take 10, William T. Cosgrave's Free Gael 11 and Labour two.

RELY ON LABOR

This would produce a government of 69, including Fianna Fail, against 69 in all other parties. Observers held that De Valera in the position of having to rely on Labor support to continue in office.

Fianna Fail's progress surprised everyone and few indications of a split in the party have been correct in their predictions. The party would hold the balance of power in the next day.

KICK AT PENSION

Starting last December, when Labor support was needed for George VI in the abdication bill, the party has attacked De Valera's pension, particularly on the question of giving a pension to Doris Buckley, the Governor-General of the Irish Free State.

Anticipating a stalemate, political commentators already forecast De Valera may within six weeks call a new election and appeal for a complete majority.

PEAK DICTATOR

The heavy vote against it was considered one of the fears that would give the proposed president, De Valera, a more dictatorial power, that it would restrict the rights of women and the freedom of the press, and the freedom of the press, that it would restrict the rights of women and the freedom of the press.

Newly Found, Vast Mineral Wealth Removes Threat, Says Senator

PARIS, July 5.—Canada's great and newly discovered mineral wealth has removed any question of the dominion might sometime be absorbed by the United States, Senator C. P. Beaumont of Montreal told the House of American friends here Saturday.

In his address, the Canadian senator answered the question brought up by Andre Siegfried, renowned French economist, who, in his most recent book on Canada's status, asked "Can Canada long resist the formidable economic attraction of the United States?"

VALUABLE HINTS

Senator Beaumont argued Canada's economic independence was virtually assured by recent discoveries of valuable mineral resources in the hitherto unexplored Canadian Rockies and in the intermediate zone between Eastern and Western Canada.

Senator Beaumont expressed the belief Siegfried refrained from answering this question because of his sympathy for Canada. He said, however, no longer is based only on the links with the Great Britain, the Senator declared.

SOURCE OF REICHES

"Canada has vast mineral mountains heretofore heavily hidden," he said.

The senator also longed deeply only on that narrow strip of arable land adjacent to the United States frontier, but on the near totality of its 9,000,000 square kilometers of land.

GOVERNOR EARLE TRY TO FORCE STRIKE BACK

On Indiana Front, Clergymen Wire That Situation
Out of Control

JOHNSBURGH, N. Y., July 4.—Gov. George H. Earl, Pennsylvania's "New Deal" governor, told a rain-drenched throng of cheering steel workers and their wives yesterday that the state's attorney general would go to Washington Wednesday "to see if we can't force an election."

The governor told the crowd, estimated at 7,500 by Sheriff Michael J. Boyle.

"We don't need acts of violence when you have Franklin Delano Roosevelt in Washington," Earl said, "and you know how he feels about you."

Gov. Earl said there were no questions he would like to ask the workers at "Little Steel," the corporations which have refused to bargain collectively with the labor union.

"That question," he said, "is why the companies have refused to bargain with the union. I would like to know whether you would like to see the state of steel workers' lives of dollars out of the hands of their workers."

The "Little Steel" companies, he added, "in a violation of the National Labor Relations Act, have refused to bargain with the union. I would like to know whether you would like to see the state of steel workers' lives of dollars out of the hands of their workers."

OTTAWA BRISKS UP AS CABINET UNION STARTS

OTTAWA, July 4.—Scattered forces of the Dominion government will converge upon the capital this week and next in a campaign that will bring for a brief period as many as 100 members of the cabinet in Ottawa this week and next.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King and his cabinet members accompanied him to the Imperial Conference in London last week and are due to reach Quebec Thursday.

Other ministers who have taken leave of absence in the past week to attend to family affairs are expected to return to Ottawa this week and next.

It is expected that the minister will summon his colleagues in cabinet on Monday or Tuesday of next week to discuss the proposals of far-reaching insurance legislation which have been referred to the cabinet by the minister in a trade agreement with United States.

Ford Challenges Board's Authority

DETROIT, July 4.—The Ford Motor Co. in a formal action to enforce the National Labor Relations Board that it had violated the Wagner Act, challenged the board's authority. The complaint, the company said, should be dismissed "because the NLRB has not authority to regulate relations between employer and employees engaged in local production."

3 Teachers Have Same Birthday

RIMBY, July 4.—The Woodville school district, established in 1909, three miles east of Rimby, has had but three teachers since that date. They were: Miss Est. Sturges, now a member of the Rimby public school; Mrs. M. B. Taylor, now the present Mrs. Andrew McKimble of the Rimby district; and Miss Bertha Ainger, who last week resigned to take a position in a successful five-year term there.

The remarkable part of this story is that each of the three and only teachers, who have served the district, were born on the same birthday, August 23, and they have made a practice of celebrating the event together. It looks like a promising for some teacher with a July birthday.

COAST C.C.F. NOT JOINING COMMUNISTS

Party Resolution Condemns Any Linking With United Front

VANCOUVER, July 4.—The British Columbia section of the C.C.F. was pledged to at least another 12 months of independent political action. Saturday, by a vote of 129 to 40, delegates to the fifth annual convention of the party adopted a resolution "condemning the use of complete political independence for the C.C.F."

The vote was taken after two hours' noisy argument between the C.C.F. and the Communist Party, and the so-called working-class parties, including the Communist Party, and those who agreed with the preamble of the party's constitution, "an alliance of agreement with the Communist Party of the time would result in loss of public support and the obscuring of our objective."

The vote reaffirmed the stand of delegates to the 1936 provincial convention, and action taken to prevent domination of the party by the Communist Party.

Saturday night the convention passed a vote of censure on the C.C.F. class in Alberni-Strathcona Valley for supporting A. M. Stephens, a candidate of the party, although they knew he was under a 12-month suspension from the party last year by his union for activities in the Communist Party.

Delegates also passed resolutions to support a campaign for the prohibition of armaments possession for the last session of the Dominion Parliament.

By Dr. Frank McCoy

SACRO-ILIAC TROUBLE

An insurance salesman tells me that one of his big companies handling accident insurance is frequently the cause of severe disability. While this may be true, it is not only infrequently, and a severe disability is much more serious than the average case of sacro-iliac trouble.

Sometimes it is because the sacro-iliac joint becomes locked. It is often the result of a fall. After being locked, the parts are not in their normal relationship and the soft tissue parts around the joints are injured. The object of treatment is to return the joint to its normal range of movement. As a dislocation, it is not the same as the knee is drawn up against the chest and the leg cannot be brought into the position. Here the knee is usually done, would produce pain. About the same thing happens with one of those locked sacro-iliac joints. It becomes locked or fixed. The normal range of movement is lost and the patient says it hurts. Of course, a fall may occur where the two bones actually do slip out of place, but I believe this is more rare than is supposed.

The manipulations usually given to a patient with sacro-iliac trouble are of two kinds. One is to unlock the joint and the other is to lock the joint. It is important to know the difference between the two. The first is to unlock the joint and the second is to lock the joint. The first is to unlock the joint and the second is to lock the joint.

WOMAN how beautiful now! False teeth, eyelashes, eyebrows, dresses, complexion—surely this was enough without contriving, as a note in the New York Times says you have to manufacture a false smile, to be devoured by the world. It may not be mainly modesty or girlish confusion that brings the young woman to the cheek of the girl of your heart—the may be practically inserting the finger between it and the carotid artery; you can produce the advantage of the thing is that it can be turned on and off at will.

Another method, if you have left your teeth at home, is to hold your breath and you count silently to ten. As a matter of fact, however, we haven't much faith in this last scheme. We've tried it ourselves—to induce blabber, but to stop blabber—and found that instead of getting upon our feet took an added purplish tint.

At the party, we thought when we saw one the other day, the young woman who was the subject of revealing the horrible truth about the girl of your heart, as you step on to them, say 34 or so when you are 36.

Queen Mary Is Back In Full Swing of British Public Life

LONDON, July 5.—Queen Mary, after a quarter-century of fulfilling Great Britain's ideal of what a reigning queen should be, today is playing the role of Queen Mother apparently with even greater success.

She has not followed the example of Queen Alexandra, spending her widowhood in semi-retirement. Her social activities and her recent attendance at the Wimbledon tennis championships impressed the nation with her choice to play an active part in the life of her people.

MOURNING OVER

The days of mourning for King George V, who died on Jan. 20, 1936, proved only a temporary lull in her manifold activities. Today, although while-haired and wearing the familiar figure of a queen of the counties events of the coronation season—all with the same easily carriage and gracious smile, still wearing the flowered tulle of the style she made her own, holding a light-colored umbrella or sunshade in a white-gloved hand.

The warmest cheers of the public all over the world for Queen Mary's return to public life was done with the strictest regard for court etiquette. She made her first appearance at an exhibition of flowers and other gift functions. When the period of mourning was over, she attended one of her own private parties for charity, and thus paved the way for her re-appearance at such public occasions as courts, garden parties, polo matches and finally the coronation itself.

SMILED AS USUAL

The eve of the abdication of her son, King Edward VIII, saw the Queen Mother at her best. While she showed little of the regal splendor of Marlborough House, Queen Mary drove out as usual, waving and smiling to the crowds as if she could give any special reason for their presence there. On the morning of George VI's coronation she has been taking on even more engagements as if determined to help her second husband through the difficult early days of his reign. Queen Mary has been "back" for some time. From her husband's death in 1936, she has watched the tennies at Wimbledon and congratulated the new champion, Don Budge of California.

FEAR ACCIDENT

She nearly fell down the steps at the door of the royal residence at the end of one day's play, but she just smiled and remarked to attendants: "they do keep it dark here, don't they?"

She has appeared at the opera at Covent Garden, in a shimmering tulle gown and a tulle jacket with jewels.

Being Queen Mother, perhaps has no other responsibility. While the Queen Mother accompanied the King on his tour of the British Empire, she has been in the United Kingdom, Northern Ireland and Wales this summer. Queen Mary is planning a quiet holiday among the dunes of her Norfolk garden at Sandringham.

TWEEDSMUIR FELICITATES U.S. ON FOURTH

The message addressed to the President, "The White House, Washington," read:

RUSSIANS QUIT RIVER ISLANDS EASING TENSION

Briercrest Loss By Fire Set At $15,000

BRIERCREST, Sask., July 5.—Fire which destroyed an entire block of Main street Saturday in this town $15,000 damage. # C.N.R. TAKES EXCEPTION TO HALF TRUTHS

To submerge was the largest railway organization in the North American continent, it afforded the shortest rail route between Eastern and Western Canada with lower gradients than any other rail line in the United States or the Dominion. In the prairie provinces it served the most productive part of the country.

ONLY AVAILABLE

It served directly ninety per cent of the people of Canada, and to non-quarter of them, was the only railway available. It linked the Dominion with many of Canada's best markets in the United States. Fifty per cent of the coal produced in the Dominion was shipped by the Canadian National for rail transport. Development of base and precious metal mining in recent years has been largely along its lines. It was the greatest factor in serving the forest industries in Canada. It was the greatest factor in finding any justification for the view expressed by some critics that this was a "dead horse enterprise."

Balance sheets of a national enterprise tell only part of the story. The real picture is in the development of the country. The rest is to be found in the development of the country. The rest is to be found in the development of the country. The rest is to be found in the development of the country.

RAILROAD IN ADVANCE

"We also have a great deal of Canada being over-railroaded. It passes by the fact that the Canadian National can go through a development stage without a low population per mile of railway. The railway must go in advance of the population but, if the railway takes country which has natural resources, whether it be timber, minerals or otherwise, the development of the country will be more than justified by the railway."

The latest available figures show that the railway freight traffic in Canada has increased by five times in the last ten years. In the United States, the increase has been four times as great as in this country. As Great Britain, France, Germany, Australia and the Argentine, so that, although we have a low population per mile of railway, each person, so far as his railway traffic is concerned, counts as four.

The history of the development of capital wealth in Canada parallels the history in railways, but in a greater degree. The Canadian National railway, Canada has invested her capital wealth twelve fold. "I am old enough to remember the time when the Canadian National was a small railway in the Northwest Territories. The Prairie Provinces was looked upon as a remote territory. Today we know that the future wealth of Canada will be drawn in a measure from the territory served by the Canadian National."

DRAWS STIMULUS

Consider, too, that in the highly industrialized action of the country, which has drawn its stimulus from the development of the hinterland, the Canadian National Railway is pre-eminent in serving them. It is the only railway that has a picture of the potentialities of the western world in a far different form than that presented by our statistics.

Former U.S. Soldiers Re-count Old Battles In Philippines

To commemorate one of the most determined conflicts waged by the United States, Spanish-American war veterans, now resident in Alberta and members of one of the two camps of that organization in Canada, met at a picnic at Riverview park Sunday. Organized last year, the association has 35 members in Alberta, and each of the way from Fort McMurray to the southern boundary, and each of the association, presided over by A. R. Thompson of Leduc, attempt to get as many members as possible at the gathering held from time to time during the summer months. The third of these events held Sunday was attended by 40 persons, including representatives from Leduc, Telford and Phoenix, Arizona.

Recalling memories of the struggle, which lasted from 1898-1902, and was made hideous by "bull-walking" and guerrilla warfare carried on by the natives in Cuba and the Philippines, G. D. Koonce of Arizona, chairman of the war of the people while visiting in Edmonton, told of the final incident that marked the triumph of the American arms.

FINE PROGRAM ARRANGED FOR SUMMER FAIR

Grandstand and Midway Features to be of Exceptional Standard

A varied program of attractions for the annual summer fair, including grandstand and midway features, has been arranged for the Edmonton Exhibition, July 12-17, officials announced Monday.

Edmonton will be the third city to be visited by this circuit, as performers are coming to the city after making their tour to Western Canadian exhibitions and audiences at Brandon and at the Calgary exhibition and stampede.

W. Abbott, manager, states that these attractions appear so offered here for many years, and that advice received from various sources.

TO BE INSTRUCTED

An overflow registration for membership in the junior department camp is reported by officials. Sponsored by the provincial and dominion governments, the University of Alberta and the Edmonton Exhibition Association, the camp is held up with dormitories and lecture rooms in the old Crowfoot school building, with instructors and a hostess in charge.

Members arrive Monday, July 12, and go immediately into residence, being guests of the Exhibition Association until Saturday, July 17. Beyond paying transportation to Edmonton and supplying their own pocket money, all expenses are borne by the nation out of the fund to which the federal government contributes.

By members will receive instruction in various phases of agriculture, horticulture, and domestic science, and in the use of the camera, and in the use of the typewriter.

A feature of the exhibition will be the annual provincial championships for horse shoe pitching sponsored by the association. The tournament will be staged during the exhibition, beginning Monday, July 12, and ending Friday, July 17. Draw will be made at 6:00 p.m. daily after which games will take place.

Wednesday evening a special contest will be held for all who have not previously completed in the provincial tournament. Prize lists will be sent on application to Edmonton Exhibition Office or to W. J. Ross, 11822 7th street, tournament manager.

ARENA TENDERS FOR ICE PLANT TO BE CALLED

City Engineer Prepares Specifications For $37,000 Project

Tenders for Edmonton's new $37,000 artificial ice plant for the arena will be called for as soon as City Engineer A. W. McLeod has prepared the necessary specifications, while structural alterations to the building made necessary by the city's decision to install artificial ice, will be carried out as soon as possible.

Plans attached to the building will cost about $1,750, and include construction of removable horse stalls along one side of the building so that stalls can be taken down when the arena is used for the space used for a restaurant for the convenience of patrons between the seasons.

While the special committee considering this question recommended that the present south entrance to the arena be widened to provide space for a walkway at an estimated cost of $3,000, the committee also recommended that this particular part of the project was not necessary this year.

Major Clarke said the plant would be ready for operation next September or early in October. It is also expected that the new refreshment counter be installed in time for the opening of the hockey season.

Vancouver Airman Picked As Test Pilot For Of Trans - Atlantic Mail

The Caspien, one of Imperial Airways' long-range flying boats, at rest on the water; this type of craft was designed for trans-Atlantic and other long-distance over-water routes.

Captain Neville Cumming
Has Handled Big British Flying Boats

By A. F. ROBERTS
VANCOUVER, July 8.—A former Vancouver airman, W. Neville Cumming, has been chosen as pilot of the new Empire flying boat which is making a transatlantic test flight.

Captain Cumming has already flown a series of long-distance tests with the Calcutta, preparing for the Atlantic flight. He recently flew non-stop from Vancouver to Montreal, a distance of 1,700 miles, in 15 hours and 15 minutes, and was awarded the WASP non-flyer flight to India.

His use in the top in the service of Imperial Airways has been deserved. For Cumming has had an unusually wide experience in all types of flying. He started his flying career with the Royal Naval Air Service early in 1917 and during the war was active with the R.N.A.S. in the Mediterranean and the North Sea, and in 1920 and 1921 he was active with the R.N.A.S. in the Mediterranean and the North Sea, and in 1920 and 1921 he was active with the R.N.A.S. in the Mediterranean and the North Sea.

He was later in the service of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, and in 1924 he was active with the R.N.A.S. in the Mediterranean and the North Sea. ## PRELATE SAYS FINAL CHURCH FIGHT LOOMS

Bolshivism No Longer
Public Enemy No. 1
Declares German Cleric

BERLIN, July 8.—A Catholic archbishop said his congregation Sunday the final battle is approaching in the church-state conflict, and a Protestant congregation advised support of their arrested pastor.

Michael Cardinal von Faulhaber, Archbishop of Munich, said the arrest last month of a Jesuit priest on charges of inciting the government against evidence "The fight for annihilation of the Catholic union entered a new phase."

Rev. Martin Niemöller's Protestant confession of faith was read at the church of St. Paul in Munich, and the arrested pastor was held in custody for three days following his conviction on charges of inciting the church to violence.

St. Paul's church was closed for three days following the arrest of the pastor. The church was closed for three days following the arrest of the pastor.
